

Your life as a widow. It's not something you think about when you first get married. After all you have your whole life together to live. You jump in with both feet. Then life happens. Suddenly you find yourself without the person you've spent a lifetime walking beside. Your best friend, your emotional support, and your physical support is now gone. Suddenly you have no one with which to process life.

Lonely? Possibly. Alone? Definitely.

Every day is now a new normal. You take the garbage out when he once did. You take your car to have the oil changed when he once did. If it gets done, it is now done by you. You eat all of your meals by yourself. When you go to church, you sit by yourself. It's a life of aloneness. Silence is golden to some, but it closes in on you. You wear a smile but it hides the daily aloneness you feel. Your income has been probably been cut in half or more. Because of this you now have to make a choice between medicine, food, or utilities. Your aloneness is magnified.

The PCA Ministerial Relief Fund Offering is there to show our widows they are not alone. The gifts you give make this possible. Without you, they would still be alone. Please give generously to show them we all care.
